

MAKES BRIEF VISIT

Convent Must Be Built Now

BY

It is quite possible that a very large number of St. Clement's parishioners are solidly behind any and all projects that will advance the parish. We mean by that, that they have realization that in order for us to do a thorough job in our religious work we must be able to keep pace with the requirements.

The new school is a shining example of what can be done when the will of the people is stirred sufficiently. Although it is not completely paid for, we have reduced its debt handsomely. However, as facts printed elsewhere reveal, we may not be able to start construction of the convent because of financial reasons.

Our debt cannot exceed $300,-000.00, by Chancery orders. The debt (unless some miracle happens) will be approximately $200,000.00 in April. We must start construction in April so that occupation of the building can take place before school opens in September.

The anticipated first grade enrollment will be somewhere around 500. Add that to the last two large first classes and it is easy to, see where the seven rooms, now used as the Nuns dormitory, will be quickly occupied with students.

It is easily observed then, that those who are merely making token (small change) donations must accept their full share of responsibility and increase their offerings to a substantial level comparable to their ability to give.

Habitual dollar givers who can give more are, likewise, urged to honestly raise their level of donations.

Actually, what really is needed is for more families to give five dollars per Sunday. Many families are enjoying both husband

PASTOR . . THE Rev. Fr. Edward T. Murray

The editor of THE REPORTER said we would have to head this column with my picture. I told Mr. Editor the parishioners knew what I looked like. He said; "Maybe so, but how about the people who continuously go to the late Masses - perhaps your picture would refresh their memories." He had me there.

> The picture is the same one we used last year but, after all, I haven't changed much even if I say so myself. (Editor's note: let's not disillusion him.)

> To become serious, however, and to discuss happenings of the past twelve months, and to look into the future is the intention of this column.

> You have noted, perhaps, that we intend to make as complete a report as we possibly can. Two issues of THE REPORTER will be necessary. By careful segatiny of this issue and the one of next Sunday you will find quite complete details. Statistics are presented on the matters vital to the conducting of a parish. Besides being 'interesting', we hope that you will make them your concern.

By the Grace of God, and your cooperation, we paid off $155 000.00 to the Chancery. As of January 1954 our debt was $385,-000.00. As of January 1955 (right now) it is $230,000.00.

A year ago (1953) we had just completed a major parish money-raising project - "The Manor from Heaven." In 1954 we relaxed. No major project was undertaken. It was felt that the parishioners would appreciate it if they weren't burdened with anything beyond the Annual Bazaar effort.

It would be very nice, I presume, if I could promise that we wouldn't undertake any big money-raising project this year. I dare NOT promise. I'll have to wait awhile and see what kind of promises I get from your Sunday offering envelope pledges. If they are good and it looks like they will be kept — well — maybe there will not be a big project.

THE CONVENT is our big problem for this year and it is upon us right now. The problem trimmed down to a few words is this; we need it so as to be occupied by September in order to release classrooms now being used as a dormitory by the Nuns. His Eminence, Edward Cardinal Mooney, is holding firm to his order not allowing parishes to exceed a debt of $300,000.00. Our present debt when added to the anticipated cost ($300,000.00) of the convent sends us well beyond the ceiling.

When April arrives, the time when construction should start, we shall have paid off another $30,000.00. That, of course, is $200,-000.00 beyond the limit and that is what presents such a problem. From the above figures it can be seen that with a $200,000.00 current debt our borrowing limit would be $100,000.00. That is insufficient to start construction. We could not build on a stop and go bers of the family do, too, we'll

The Reporter "Talks"

It seems that the "editor" of this little paper likes to give it a voice, or, rather, put a pencil in its hand and cause it to speak for itself. In which case the statements contained herein may not make literary history. They will however attempt to tell you why "The Reporter" has re-appeared even though only for a brief period.

Anyone who was around St. Clement parish a year ago was certainly well acquainted with me. I — "The Reporter" - kept you informed about the progress being made on our "Manor from Heaven" project. Remember? Did I just hear you say; "How could I forget?"

Well - I'm back again briefly for a good reason. You see - we believe (Fr. Murray and I) that, to keep the parish well-informed — to keep no secrets from them - to let them have the facts -is the proper thing to do. Because, after all, this is our parish - we're in it together -- we worship here — we support it — it is our spiritual home, so why not be informed?

There will be two issues. This one and another next Sunday. There were so many names to list and so much to talk about that one issue would not take care of it.

Another reason for "The Reporter's" appearance is quite obvious and that is because the Sunday Bulletin couldn't possibly do the job efficiently.

In the pages you will find items of interest, we sincerely hope. Nothing contained in its columns are even slightly intended to hurt anyone. The listings of donations is only honest reporting of the principle source of our revenue. It is not new — or a surprise.

If, then, you will be kind enough to read my pages and make certain that all the mem-(Continued on page 8)

Rosary Altar Society | Vital Statistics

When there is a loving and devoted mother in a home it is quite a certainty that that home is a happy one. You can be sure that all things are lovingly tended, and that things really get done.

It is quite the same in a parish where you have a Rosary Altar Society filled with so many such mothers such as we have at St. Clement. They had a very busy year in 1954 and without their helping hands we don't know what we would have done.

During the year they sponsored five card parties; many bake sales; cooked and served numerous breakfasts, luncheons, banquets, and dinners. Worked like beavers before, during, and after the annual bazaar. Sponsored a successful pantry shower for our Nuns.

Recalling the gigantic Living Rosary of May 2nd, it is remembered that the Rosary Altar Society gathered the 750 women that comprised the 50 Hail Mary beads - and had all of them there.

They were a great help at Fr. Murray's Silver Anniversary and on several other occasions when he had many priests for dinner, one at which Cardinal Mooney was present along with about 200 priests.

In June they entertained the National Council Archdiocesan League of Catholic Women at a buffet luncheon and were awarded a gavel for having the largest attendance. They took care of the dinners for Confirmation, the closing of Forty Hours Devotion and the mission store during the two weeks of the Mission.

They inaugurated the weekly Donation Parties by using ALL the linens and other prizes that were left over from the 1953 bazaar (and cleared $500.00 on that event).

So, as you can see quite clearly, their unselfish devotion has been given quite tirelessly and very productively. As we stated earlier: "Without them we don't know what we'd do."

The officers are as follows:

Rev. Fr. T. Edw. Murray, Counsellor; Mrs. Nelson Zott, President; Mrs. Elvira Wiegand, Vice-President; Mrs. Roger Martin, Treasurer; Mrs. Edward Shutz, Secretary; Mrs. Ella Koppinger, Publicity.

CAN YOU?

Can you honestly - in your heart and conscience — call yourself a good member of the St. Clement parish if you are not enrolled in the parish register the burden?

While our good priests read, and sung, countless low and high Masses during the year, made numerous sick and other various calls, heard many thousand confessions, counseled many persons, and attended meetings, they also found time to guide many into the faith.

One hundred and sixteen were received into the church at St. Clement.

Other interesting statistics are as follows:

Baptisms	43
Deaths	46
Marriages	78
First Communions2	03
Confirmations at St. Clement ......172 Confirmations at Cathedral 56 In 1953 there were 35 converts, 314 baptisms, and 93 marriages at St. Clement.

Running Things

The title of this little item called "Running Things" could just as well have been called many other things. In this case it has reference particularly to just one phase of running things and that is — a budget.

All businesses, including cities, states, and governments (and many households) prepare a budget. A budget, as we know, is somebody's guess as to what amount of money will be required to run things in the coming year. It usually states the anticipated income and then aportions various amounts to finance necessary running expenses or necessary improvements, etc.

Anticipating the amount of income to be expected in 1955 is exactly where our pastor, Father Murray, needs our help. (You and me — parishioners) How can we help? The answer is so simple that it is quite amazing: Get a packet of envelopes — promise to give a generous amount every week - AND KEEP THAT PROMISE.

The sum total of promises added to some guessing as to what seat collections might be, will then reveal the figure from which a budget can be established. If the promises are not generous or NOT KEPT — that will not be good. "Running Things" will be unpleasant and difficult.

It's really up to ALL OF US -ISN'T IT?

and do not have envelopes with which to fulfill a part of your responsibility? Do you attend Mass but allow others to carry

EDITORIAL-SUNDAY OFFERINGS

It is revealed in St. Paul's writings, that support of the church by its parishioners was deemed necessary from the very beginning. He made frequent references to it and its necessity has never been questioned. Nor is it likely to ever be questioned because of the basic and obvious soundness of the principle.

Churct history reveals many eras in which the faithful, moved by a great urge to give, brought into existence great churches and cathedrals. It reveals also, that customary tithes of 10% paid in wheat, lambs, or whatever the faithful could offer sustained the church through many centuries.

It is revealed too, that where God's house was deemed unworthy of support, the land soon failed to yield.

It is not intended to imply that God makes it a practice of "getting even" with those who fail to give to Him. The statement was merely revelation of coincidental happenings which may lead to the belief that God's displeasure was achieved.

CHARITY heads the list in desirable emotions that can spring from the human soul. From that source goodness emanates in the form of love and, again, from love we find other virtues pouring forth — among which is — giving.

Giving, of course, without expectance of recompense has greater wealth in its structure than that which expects a comparable return. Giving, however, in the true spirit of CHARITY, must, according to Holy Scripture, yield a return beyond the comprehension of mortal minds. For, as St. Paul states in the second epistle to the Corinthians (1X-7) "God loveth a cheerful giver."

Would not giving generously in Sunday offerings be giving in Christ's name? Is it not in furtherance, or perpetuation of His works? Is it not for the purpose of expanding God's word in this world so that more souls can find the way into the Kingdom of Heaven?

Why then — when God's bounty pours generously into one's life can it not be seen that a great Love is endeavoring, perhaps, to awaken a sleeping soul that has not yet realized that — "from God do all blessings flow."

It would seem wise then, to reconsider, or re-evaluate the measure of CHARITY pouring forth from the number one source oneself. One can say; "I love God with all my heart." To which one might ask; "Have you successfully separated your heart from your purse to the extent that while you personally will NOT MISS MASS - you will, however, allow your Sunday offering envelope to MISS MASS?

PASTOR . BY THE

basis as that would increase costs considerably. Where then will the needed $200,000.00 come from?

Through use of the CONVENT ENVELOPES. If each one of our 2000 families would give a minimum of $10.00 per month specifically for the convent (exclusive of regular offerings) we would realize $20,000.00 per month. If this can be accomplished for the next eight months (February thru September) and to be added to our regular collections, there would be the $200,000.00 needed.

There are many who can exceed this and some who could give a substantial gift at this present time which is so utterly important.

The parish will have the opportunity to exhibit their intentions, regarding this request, through the donations to be made during the next two months of February and March. From the donations obtained and the seriousness demonstrated in the use of the convent envelopes we shall determine whether or not the construction shall start in April.

We have pointed out the need for this building so frequently that I believe it hardly necessary to again affirm it.

You recall that last year I asked you to give this $10.00 extra a month which was met with 5% response. Had this request been met even halfway, you can see how much lighter my burden and your burden would be today.

I ask you in all seriousness, with great pleadings, and even beg of you, together with my humble forgiveness to hear this plea.

This Report does not include Special Collections which were forwarded to the Chancery Office, such as ADF, Bishops' Relief, Mission Sunday, Holy Father, Catholic University, etc., nor does it include the Christmas Collection. It lists only those donations that were made to St. Clement Parish.

Our Coaches

St. Clement grade and high schools are very fortunate, indeed, in having the voluntary services of so many fine young people who spend many hours tive years, were moved into the coaching the students in the various sports.

'The successes obtained are evidenced by a trophy case filled with emblems of achievement. The record books reveal many victories, high scores, honorable mention of outstanding plays.

As this is being written we seem to be hearing the entire parish echoing: "Well done, coaches and students!"

The coaches, not all members of the parish, or faith, are to be congratulated and gratefully thanked for their great work and interests in our youths.

Baseball . . .

Coach Louis Schimmel and his top-flight varsity baseball team after winning third division championships for three consecusecond division last year. Although they did not win the championship in their first year, the boys have asked Louis to reserve a spot in the trophy case for this year.

St. Clement also proudly boasts of a champion midget team under the tutelage of coach George Sucaet. After winning the cup in their division they missed in the playoffs. However, like their older brothers they say — "Watch us in 1955." We shall!

Basketball

St. Clement has six teams participating in this great indoor Winter sport. All entered in CYO leagues, they are: varsity and junior varsity boys teams; similar girls teams; and a grade boys team and a grade girls team.

This sport is not as old, at St. Clement, as baseball and football and, therefore, records haven't been established yet. However, the coaches have great hopes and look forward, perhaps this season, to some good success.

and wife income and have not increased their donations.

These may seem to be stern words. Our situation calls for serious action and we feel that for you to know the facts better, will be for you to cooperate better. The CONVENT MUST BE BUILT and only your generous cooperation will accomplish it.

School Has Good Year in Athletics

The athletic department of St. Clement school, under Fr. Wolber, assisted, apparently, by an unusually competent group of coaches in all sports, has had wonderful success.

The Varsity football squad. after cleaning up all 3rd division teams, was moved up last year to the 2nd division in one of the Catholic Leagues, and promptly became co-champs along with St. Rita's.

Head coach, Tom Zott and his assistant Tom Udvare, were highly pleased with the results and particularly so when some of the boys were mentioned by the big sports writers in the Detroit papers.

Bob Barron, Bill Froelich, Norman Lee, Dick Daldine, and Dick Fortin were named to the All County Class C Teams, 1st, 2nd, and honorable mention. Other honors were received as well.

The team scored 169 points against the opponents 62 in the conference games. In all games played last Fall, they scored 193 against 87 which, in any sports book, is a mighty solid record. The trophy case has two new additions. One was captured by the varsity football team and the other by the grade school football team who won in their division of the CYO league - 4 wins, 0 losses, 1 tie.

Many of the youngsters on the grade school team will move into high school next Fall. It will be a loss to coaches Don Beck (now in the Army) and Buck Baril but will please coaches Zott and Mateosky.

Young Adults

Each year a fair number of our young people pass through another stage of their journey into adult manhood and womanhood. Most of them enter this period of life, the late teens, as high school graduates. A portion continue on into higher scholastic endeavors. The majority seek business careers.

During their school years Mother Church has seriously tried to prepare them so as to be capable of journeying into the new realms of living. She has endeavored to educate their minds sufficiently to allow them, at least, equal opportunities provided in non-catholic schools.

Certainly, she has prepared them in a most serious and purposeful manner to understand and live a truly religious life. Nor does she neglect them and just turn them loose at graduation. She has endeavored to instill a religious love into their hearts that will carry them through life.

It is only a few years, in most instances, between leaving school and assuming the great vocation of parenthood. They originate new families to keep the wheels of life turning. New families to keep alive the traditions of the old. New families to help propagate the faith.

Unfortunately for some young people, they fail to recognize that the transition is supposed to add responsibilities. Naturally, a wife, a child, a household add responsibilities of an immediately recognizable nature. But there are others that have also shown up.

Most prominent responsibilities that too frequently are neglected, are of those that can have the greatest influence on the welfare and happiness of all families . religious and civic.

Students will remember that, all through the school years these two things were particularly stressed — unfailing religious fervor and civic responsibility.

That they should immediately, upon becoming self-supporting, accept the responsibility of contributing fairly toward the support of their families AND GEN-EROUSLY TO THE CHURCH, is not only a fundamental but also a just obligation.

A little spark of enthusiasm for establishing a boy scout troop for the parish was carefully nurtured for several monthe early in 1954. As the days spread out and 1954 revealed itself more fully,

we found the spark had burst into flame. Of course it's not a bon-fire as yet but, certainly, St. Clement's boy scout troop will be a big blaze before this year is out. Guided carefully through its early stages by parishioner, Bill Carney, he succeeded in gathering a fine and ambitious adult committee around him.

The troop now has twenty-five boys. They haven't accomplished big things as yet but soon shall. The kindly men parishioners guiding the way comprises:

Frank Jones, Chairman; Arthur Geisler, Secretary; Gilbert Butson, Treasurer; Edward Shutz, Outdoor Program; Vincent Schimmel, Membership; Charles Le Veque, Training; William LaValley, Troop Equipment; Frank Rettig, Religious Promotion; William Carney, Institutional Representative; Charles Sarnecki, Scoutmaster: Eugene Boudreau and John Eis, Assistant Scoutmasters.

"You Take The High Road"

There is a Scotch ballad that suggests; "You take the high road and I'll take the low road - and I'll be in Scotland 'afore Ye."

With sincere apologies to the Scotch — that might be a good suggestion - inasmuch as it would appear that one would have to expend less effort in getting there — and first at that.

It is quite likely, however, that Society of the person who took the "high road" would have actually achieved more and, with a greater feeling of accomplishment.

Sort of like the paths we may choose to follow on our journey through life. One thing is certain we do come to the journey's end eventually. Undoubtedly, the low road is easier that the high road but perhaps not so beautiful or interesting.

There are many who would choose the low road because it is easier. Sort of like dropping a coin into the collection basket rather than a bill in an envelope. Whichever road you choose, try to ascertain if it will definitely get you there "'afore ye."

Scout Troop Formed St. Clement Ushers Club

THE REPORTER

Did you know that there were 60 men in the St. Clement Ushers Club? That's right - 60 men, working on a pre-arranged schedule, cover the eight Sunday Masses. At the close of Mass they urge parishioners (which they shouldn't have to do) to buy a Sunday Register and to take home a copy of the Sunday Church bulletin.

They assist at other functions such as donation night, benefit drawings, the bazaar, special drawings. Their members have poured concrete pavement, built an outside altar, and done many other chores beneficial to the parish.

Regular monthly meetings are held. The officers and present members are:

Ed. J. Grobbel, President James Schoenherr, Vice-Pres. Bradley Lietz, Secretary

Walter Krawczyk, Treasurer A. Schimmel, J. Brinkman, S. Andrezejewski, J. Robine, F. Smith, H. Patalon, L. Wancour, J. Michalak, J. Panko, J. Lafnear, W. Essenmacher, G. Finn, Sr., G. Finn, Jr., J. # St. Vincent de Paul

St. Clement parish has an active St. Vincent dePaul group who meet regularly each week. their work, of course, covers a wide field of charitable needs. There are the poor; sometimes a destitute soul or family; a deprived aged person or couple; deserted children; and many other serious situations that need a helping hand.

In the spirit of St. Vincent de Paul these men, listed below, analyze the cases and act to the best of their means and ability. They have splendid ability but usually the means are rather meager.

The Living Rosary

An outstanding parish accomplishment was the unique, and original, presentation of the gigantic Living Rosary produced last May 2nd in which the parishioners of St. Clement paid dutiful, and loving respect to Our Blessed Mother in her Marian Year.

Seven hundred and ninety-five women and high school girls (fifteen to a bead) comprised the Hail Mary prayers. Ninety men comprised the Apostles Creed, Lord's Prayer and Glory Be pravers.

A gigantic rosary was formed by the 885 parishioners. Accompanying these people were; a large assembly of fully dressed K. of C. Honor Guards; several hundred school children; the Nuns; ushers; and hundreds of the faithful.

The Blessed Sacrament was carried in all its glorious dignity and, as you should never forget, while father Murray elevated the Sacred Host for adoration - the overcast clouds parted at that precise moment through which God's everlasting sun shined brilliantly upon us - just for hat fleeting moment.

Following the recessional of the Blessed Sacrament, rain again fell from the Heavens. The good people returned to their homes with a feeling in their hearts that God was pleased that they had so honored His Beloved Marv.
