ST. JOSAPHAT-KUNCEWICZ

Bishop and Martyr

1580 - 1623

Among the considerable number of Uniate Russians towards the close of the 16th century, was a family at Volodymyr in Lithuania named Kuncewicz, the head of which held the honorable position of town-councillor. His son John—better known from his name in religion, as Josaphat—was born in 1580. From the first the future martyr gave signs of extraordinary piety and uncommon abilities. After he went to school and had made very rapid progress, he devoted himself to the study of the ancient Sclovonick, which it is said, very few of the priests even at that time understood. After several years of working as an apprentice he felt the call of the cloister and entered the Basilian Monastery in the town of Vilna. Vilna, Poland at that time was undergoing a great Catholic development. As a monk of St. Basil, Brother Josaphat became like St. Alphonsus Rodriguez at the same period, a sort of oracle of holy instruction and wise advice. People flocked to consult him, though he was not then a priest and his advice invariably carried with it the correct solution of doubts and difficulty. He was ordained in 1609. All this time, the uniate body had to withstand the attacks of schismatics and protestants, and in this species of spiritual warfare, Abbot Josaphat as he now was, came to be regarded as a pillar of the truth and his unrivalled knowledge of the ancient Slavonic liturgy and the Eastern Fathers enabled him to dispose of the specious arguments of such opponents as Meletius Smotrycki. In 1617 he was promoted to the see of Vitebsk, as Coadjutor to the Archbishop of Polotsk, whom he succeeded in the following year. As the superior of the Basilian Order, the new Archbishop devoted himself to the important work of fostering, not only the instruction of the people, but of the parochial clergy. He drew up and published a dogmatic Catechism based on that of Trent, and all candidates for parishes and curacies had to be examined in it before being appointed. His discourses were largely attended and great numbers embraced the Catholic Faith, the truth of which they now heard stated for the first time. If sound arguments and burning zeal could effect a reunion, the holy archbishop would have achieved it, but jealousy of the Imperial government (for the control of the Church) and the willful misrepresentations of many of the Russian clergy who refused to be instructed proved insuperable obstacles. Besides his labours for reunion, St. Josaphat toiled unremittingly for the faithful of his province. He spent hours daily in the Confessional, undertook long visitations and missionary journeys, everywhere urging clergy and people to live as became priests and members respectively of Christ's Mystical Body.

The constant efforts of the saint to expose the historical and doctrinal falsifications and other nefarious practices of the schismatics, and his severe rebuke of the vicious living that was the other immense obstacle to reunion, goaded the so called Orthodox party to fury. For some time threats of violence were made against the archbishop, but he disregarded them, but on the 12th of November 1623, while his Grace was staying at Vitebsk for the visitation, a savage mob — amongst them Meletius Smotrycki — burst into the episcopal palace, attacking the officials and calling for the Archbishop. With almost the same words, and with the whole of the calm courage of St. Thomas of Canterbury, the undaunted prelate replied: "My children, why are you injuring my people? If you have anything against me, here I am!" Several musket shots and a stroke from a halberd consummated the martyrdom of this glory of Ruthenian Catholicism. His body though cast into the river, was recovered six days later and very soon the blood of the martyr became in truth the seed of the local Church. He was beatified in 1643 by Pope Urban VIII and was canonized at St. Peter's in 1867 by Pope Pius IX. Pope Leo XIII extended the feast to the whole Church.

HISTORIA PARAFII ŚW. JÓZEFATA, BISKUPA I MĘCZENNIKA, W BAYSIDE, N.Y.

Około roku 1900, kilkanaście rodzin Polskich osiedliło się w okolicy Bayside na Long Island. Gdy liczba rodzin wzrosła do 100, zostało założone dnia 5-go Maja, Roku 1909, TOW. ŚW. KRZYŻA, bratniej pomocy. Jednym z celów towarzystwa było założenie Polskiej Parafii. Setki nowo przybyłych emigrantów z Polski jak również i stałych rezydentów Polskiego pochodzenia z Bayside, Flushing, College Point, Whitestone, Port Washington, Roslyn Heights, Manhasset, Great Neck, Little Neck i Douglaston, którzy nie mieli własnego Polskiego Kościoła, uczęszczali na Msze Św. i Nabożeństwa do Kościoła Najśw. Serca Pana Jezusa w Bayside.

Rok 1910 stał się rokiem pamiętnym dla kolonii Polskiej. Ks. Biskup McDonnell uznając potrzebę Kościoła Polskiego, zamianował Ks. Gerwazego Kubeca, proboszczem nowej Parafii pod wezwaniem Św. Józefata, Biskupa i Męczennika, z poleceniem obsługiwania Polaków-mieszkających w okolicy.

Zaczęto rozglądać się za miejscem stosownem na nowy Kościół i gdy odpowiednie miejsce wyszukano, Ks. Kubec wybudował pierwszy Kościół Św. Józefata. Poświęcenie Kamienia Węgielnego i Kościoła dokonał, Sufragan Diecezji, Ks. Biskup Mundelein w Roku 1911. Posługiwanie Duszpasterskie w Powiezonej owczarni Ks. Kubec spełniał aż do roku 1913.

Rok 1913 był to rok przełomowy Parafii, bo w tym roku zaszła zmiana proboszcza. Dotychczasowy proboszcz organizator Parafii, Ks. Gerwazy Kubec, został przeniesiony na placówkę Św. Kazimierza w Bruklinie. Jego miejsce zajął kapłan młodszy, energiczny Ks. Bronisław Malinowski który pracował w Parafii przez 35 lat aż do swego zgonu które nastąpiło 2-go Stycznia 1948.

Wkrótce, nowy proboszcz musiał pomyśleć o stałym mieszkaniu dla siebie i rozpoczął budowę dzisiejszej plebanii. A gdy liczba rodzin wzrosła do 400—tymczasowy Kościółek nie mógł pomieścić wiernych. Okazała się potrzeba nowego obszerniejszego kościoła. W Marcu 1934 poczęto kopać pod fundamenta, A w Maju odbyło się uroczyste Poświęcenie Kamienia Węgielnego. W Następnym roku 1935 w Maju, Ks. Biskup Tomasz E. Molloy, dokonał Poświęcenie nowego Kościoła w stylu Gotyckim-Anglosakiem który posiada około 500 siedzeń.

Ks. Proboszcz Malinowski i sam lud czcił i uznawał potrzebę organizacji, by mieć udział w życiu społecznym. Skorzystał z chwili usposobienia ludu i od razu zajął się towarzystwami. Równocześnie proboszcz czujną ojcowską opieką otaczał inne towarzystwa Kościelne, jako Tow. Serca Pana Jezusa, Tow. Różańca Św., Trzeci Zakon Św. O. Franciszka, Dzieci Marii i Tow. Najśw. Imienia Jezusa. Tak samo towarzystwa narodowe—współpracując z proboszczem znacznie wzrosły w liczbie.

Po Śmierci Ks. Malinowskiego, Władza kościelna Mianowała Ks. Józefa Paprockiego jako trzeciego Proboszcza Parafii (1948 - 1951).

Czwarty Proboszcz, Ks. Franciszek Makowski (1952 - 1968).

Piąty Proboszcz, Ks. Franciszek Grochola (1968 - 1979).

Szósty Proboszcz, Ks. Marian Budny (1979 - 1984).

Po długich latach owocnej pracy przez siedem Proboszczów, Parafia nadal wzrasta i się powiększa. Ks. Arthur Demski objął urząd Proboszcza 19-go Lutego 1984. Dzielny Kapłan nadal prowadzi owocną pracę swych poprzedników, robiąc ulepszenia przy wszystkich budynkach parafialnych. Jestto prawdziwy gospodarz i Dusza-Pasterz bo zaledwie dwa lata jest Proboszczem a już wiele zdziałał w Duchownych, w Doczesnych i Materialnych sprawach Kościelnych.

Obecny Ks. Proboszcz Demski ma ku pomocy energicznego i pracowitego Wikarego—Ks. Edmunda Mafkowskiego.

Toteż obchodząc DIAMENTOWY JUBILEUSZ—dziękujemy Panu Bogu, Św. Józefatowi i Matce Najśw., za łaski—za otrzymane dobrodziejstwa w ciągu 75 Lat. Korzmy się w Duchu prosząc go o przebaczenie zaniedbań błagając o Błogosławieństwo Jego na przyszłość, ufni w Jego miłosierdzie.

SAMEMU BOGU NIECH BĘDZIE CZEŚĆ I CHWAŁA,
A LUDZIOM ZACNYM I OFIARNYM — POKOJ!

A BRIEF HISTORY OF ST. JOSAPHAT'S PARISH

Our parish was instituted by the late Bishop McDonnell of the Diocese of Brooklyn, and the first Solemn Mass was offered here on Jan. 12th, 1910 by Father Gervase Kubec, the founding pastor. The parish was organized to serve the needs of the Polish people of Flushing, College Point, Whitestone, Port Washington, Roslyn Heights, Manhasset, Great Neck, Little Neck, and Douglaston, who before this time had attended Mass at Sacred Heart Church in Bayside.

The first Church of St. Josaphat (now used as the parish hall) was dedicated by the late Auxiliary Bishop George Mundelein in 1911. Daily and Sunday Mass was offered there by Father Kubec, until he was appointed pastor of St. Casimir's Parish in Brooklyn; and he was succeeded in Jan., 1913 by Father Bronislaus Malinowski, who remained as pastor of St. Josaphat's Church for 35 years, until his death on Jan. 2, 1948.

Soon after his arrival, Father Malinowski set about the process of building a much-needed rectory. During this period the growth of the surrounding communities, as well as continued immigration from Poland, increased the number of parishioners until St. Josaphat's Parish had registered more than 400 families; but World War I and the great depression placed a heavy financial, as well as spiritual, burden on the people; and it was only great faith that enabled them to envision a much-needed new, and larger, church. Father Malinowski met with his parish committees in 1934, fund raising was begun, and our present beautiful church was dedicated in May, 1935 by the late Bishop Thomas Molloy.

Shortly after the death of Father Malinowski, Father Joseph Paprocki was transferred from Our Lady of Poland Church in Southampton to become our third pastor. Because of illness his stay was a short one, but he served St. Josaphat's with great dedication under trying conditions until his death in Dec., 1951.

He was succeeded in July, 1952 by Father Francis Makowski, a most efficient administrator and leader, who was still pastor at the time of the parish's Golden Jubilee in 1960. A Solemn Mass of Thanksgiving was held on June 19th of that year, presided over by Bishop Bryan McEntegart; the Mass was offered by Father Kubec, the first pastor of St. Josephat's.

Father Makowski was succeeded in 1968 by Father Francis Grochola, who is especially remembered for his concern and labors in the renovation of our church and parish buildings. Upon his sudden death in 1979, he was followed by Father Marian Budny, who served our parish with love until his retirement in 1984. Father Budny continues to reside on Long Island, and keeps up an unofficial relationship with our parish by means of frequent visits.

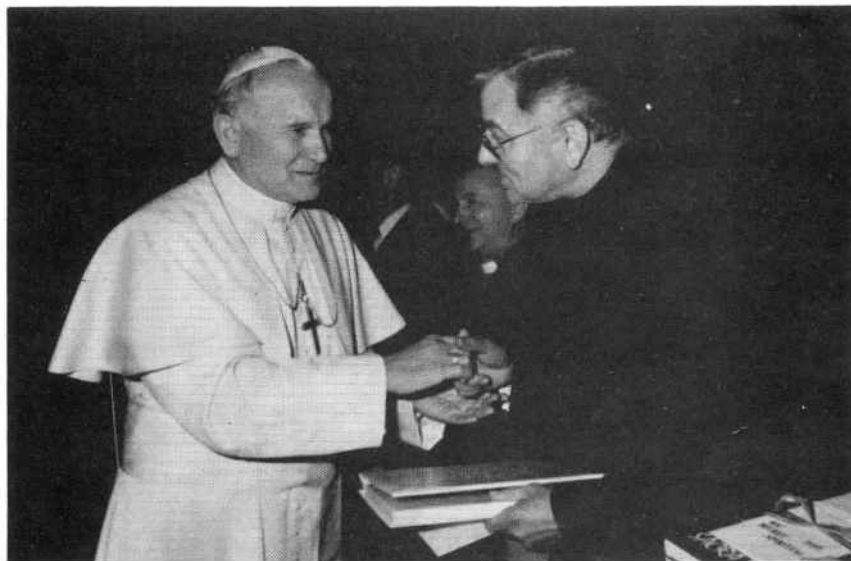

Our present pastor, Father Arthur Demski, represents the seventh in this illustrious line. With the able assistance of his associate pastor, Father Edmund Mankowski, he has presided over the refurbishing of the parish in preparation for the celebration of the present Diamond Jubilee, as well as the various functions connected with this joyous event.

Also not to be forgotten are the church societies, such as the Catholic Women's Club, the Holy Name Society, the Polish American Heritage Society, and the Parish Council. The efforts of such groups over the years has built the spirit of St. Josaphat's as we know it today.

St. Josaphat's Parish has indeed been fortunate to have been served by such Godly priests and concerned and cooperative parishioners. Under the leadership of Fathers Demski and Mankowski we look forward confidently to a future of parish growth and spiritual renewal.

The Virgin Mary in America
...the world's refuge at the

Since 1970, the Virgin Mary and Her Divine Son appear to Mrs. Veronica Lucken, mother of 5 children, during Rosary Vigils in New York City. The Blessed Virgin predicts World War III plus a fiery comet chastisement leading to the death of 3/4 of the human race . . . unless man reforms.

Visit Con Edison's Energy Action Center in Forest Hills, Queens

You'll meet A.C.E., a computer that's our Action Center Expert. A.C.E. has the answers to questions about heating, insulation, weatherstripping, lighting, air conditioning and about energy-saving devices. Ask A.C.E.

about Con Edison's free Home Energy Audit and General Contractor Service and any of our Blue Ribbon Consumer and Conservation Services.
